Each year colleges and universities across the country recognize the importance of the student employee experience during National Student Employment Week. Student employment offers students career-enhancing opportunities, the ability to develop skills relevant in any career, and better preparation for the job market upon graduation.

On their campuses and throughout their communities, student employees perform invaluable services with enthusiasm, dedication, and initiative. Indeed, most schools and surrounding businesses depend on the contributions of this reliable workforce for the efficient operation of the campus and community.

NSEW will be held April 8-14, 2018. Each year the Student Employment Office partners with local businesses to offer several discounts and a wide variety of prizes to student employees as a way of saying thank you.
TAMU NATIONAL STUDENT EMPLOYMENT WEEK EVENTS

During National Student Employment Week there are several on-campus events that are designed for student employees. During the week we will have two days of campus resource tables where student employees are encouraged to stop by, play games, win prizes, pick up free promotional items and discounts. You will also have a chance to meet Student Employment Office personnel and find out how the Jobs for Aggies website can work for you! Event tables will be located on the east side of Evans Library.

SUMMER BUCKET LIST IDEAS

BY ELIZABETH HOYT

1. Go to concerts

Summer is the perfect time to get together with friends and go to a concert or outdoor music festival. Extra points if you need to take a road trip with friends to get there!

2. Plan a stay-cation

Maybe you don’t have the funds to take a luxurious summer vacation but why not substitute a staycation in its place? See the sights your area has to offer by becoming a tourist for the day – it’s probably been ages since you’ve experienced them!

3. Relax on a beach

Whether you’re near an ocean, a lake or need to go to a pool, there’s nothing like relaxing on a hot day next to a body of water while soaking up some summer rays.

4. Read some classics

Catch up on your reading by curling up with a great book – it will help you stay sharp for the upcoming semester.

5. Visit a friend you haven’t seen in a while

If you’re missing a friend you haven’t seen in a long time, why not take a weekend to visit them? Ask to crash on the couch so it’s cost-effective and bond while you check out their new digs.

6. Get crafty

Why not take time to make something unique? Get in touch with your artistic side and take on an art project. Check Pinterest for ideas.

7. Take a road trip

Pile in the car with some good friends and some good music. Take a trip to a local landmark or just see where the road takes you!

8. Sleep under the stars

Connect with nature by camping with friends for a few nights. Sleeping under the stars is an experience everyone should have – plus, who doesn’t love a s’more?

9. Learn a useful skill

Consider learning a new skill to improve yourself personally and professionally and that will be beneficial for your future.

10. Learn another language

Just because school’s out doesn’t mean you can’t learn. Download a free app, like Duolingo and start developing your new dialect skills.

11. Job shadow

Contact professionals with careers that interest you and arrange and conduct a job shadow to help you discover your own career path.

12. Volunteer

Start volunteering for a cause you care about. Giving back will be sure to make you feel great about the way you spent your summer.

AGGIE MUSTER

AGGIE MUSTER, APRIL 21, 2018

Aggies gathered together on June 26, 1883 to live over again their college days, the victories and defeats won and lost upon the drill field and classroom. Eventually the annual gathering evolved into a celebration of Texas Independence on San Jacinto Day – April 21st. Over time the tradition has changed, but its very essence has remained: “If there is an A&M man in one hundred miles of you, you are expected to get together, eat a little, and live over the days you spent at the A&M College of Texas.”

Muster is celebrated in more than three hundred places worldwide, with the largest ceremony on the Texas A&M campus in College Station. Aggie Muster as we know it today is credited to E. E. McQuillen ’20, who served as the Executive Secretary of The Association of Former Students. It is fitting that he was honored to serve as the first Campus Muster speaker.

Muster is a time to look to the past, present, and future...not only to grieve but to reflect and to celebrate the lives that connect us to one another. A gesture so simple in nature yet so lasting in spirit, Muster is the lasting impression every Aggie leaves with us; it reminds us of the greatness that lies within these walls, of the loyalty we possess, of the connection that binds us, and of the idea that every Aggie has a place of importance - whether they are present in flesh or spirit.
